REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. This is an Examiner's statement of reasons for allowance. The closest prior art Deaton et al U.S. Pat. No. 6,684,195 discloses a point of sale terminal that provides customer promotion.

JP 2003150769, Oshima Shigeki discloses a trial product public offering production system by which the application of an idea is promoted concerning a trial product which is different from an in-house product.

However, neither Deaton nor Oshima discloses the recited feature:

As per claim 17 "upon receipt of information regarding said substitute product from said remote server, offering said substitute product to said consumer before the transaction session terminates, consummating a sale of said original product if at least one of (a) no information regarding said substitute product is received from said remote server, and (b) said consumer declines said offering, and consummating a sale of said substitute product upon acceptance by said consumer of said offering".

As per claim 80 " means for transmitting an offer of said substitute product to said consumer before the transaction session terminates, means for consummating a sale of said original product if at least one of (a) no information regarding said substitute product is received from said remote server, and (b) said consumer declines said offering, and means for consummating a sale of said substitute product upon acceptance by said consumer of said offering".

Art Unit: 3621

As per claims 86 and 87 " code transmitting an offer of said substitute product to said consumer before the transaction session terminates, code for consummating a sale of said original product if at least one of (a) no information regarding said substitute product is received from said remote server, and (b) said consumer declines said offering, and means for consummating a sale of said substitute product upon acceptance by said consumer of said offering".
